Believe in the cure for cancer - Relay for Life set for Oct. 12

Relay for Life of Temple City kicked off its annual fundraiser, Aug. 14, at Temple City's Concerts in the Park to the tunes of DSB (Don't Stop Believin').

Funds raised by Relay for Life stay in the community and go toward services provided by the American Cancer Society including patient support.

This year's goal is to raise $60,000. Relay for Life will take place from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m., Oct. 12, at Temple City Park.

Members of the community can help Relay for Life of Temple City reach its goal: join them at one of the upcoming Dine Out events, become an event sponsor, contribute to the upcoming Yard Sale, Sept. 21, at Taco Treat; donate goods after the yard sale at 4 p.m. at Savers.

Join them at Relay and Celebrate Cancer Survivors. Hope for a Cure and Remember those we have lost to Cancer.

Cancer survivors and caregivers are honored each year by Relay for Life of Temple City. This year's event will be Oct. 5. Email Dawn Tarin at dawntarin@hotmail.com for more information about this dinner.

Power of attorney offers many benefits in estate planning

By Allyson S. Heller

A power of attorney allows the principal to delegate authority to the agent, sometimes referred to as the “attorney in fact,” to act on the principal’s behalf in managing the principal’s financial affairs; however, the principal retains his or her power to perform these same functions.

An important component of the power of attorney is ‘durability,’ which enables the document to remain in effect, even if the principal becomes incapacitated. As a result, the document allows the agent to make financial decisions on the principal’s behalf, until the principal dies.

While powers of attorney carry a risk of financial exploitation, particularly to elderly individuals by people looking to take advantage of them, there are also significant benefits to having a properly drafted, comprehensive power of attorney:

• Allows you to choose who will make financial decisions for you rather than the court being involved
• Avoids the necessity of a costly and complicated guardianship or conservatorship
• Makes clear the principal’s wishes and avoids disagreements among family members
• Prevents delays in asset protection planning, by specifying all powers necessary for the agent to effectively act on the principal’s behalf

With powers of attorney comes the risk of exploitation, though it’s often trumped by the benefits. One of the most significant is the ability to protect one’s family from court fees, which can be burdensome.

For the reasons listed above, a comprehensive power of attorney drafted by an attorney is an extremely important estate planning tool, yet the document is often underemphasized.

Allyson is an attorney at The Law Offices of Tony J. Tyre, Esq., APC. For a free estate planning consultation with Allyson, please phone 626-858-9378 or email aheller@tyrelawgroup.com.
Call 811 before digging to prevent utility damage

811 is the federally designated your One Call System number for homeowners and professionals to call before digging to avoid damaging vital utilities.

Anyone may choose to work independently on their own property; however, if the job requires digging, consider the safety guidelines for the digging process.

Make sure the items mentioned below are considered even if there is a contractor working for your property:

- Call 811 before digging.
- Wait for the required time; generally, 48 to 72 hours, depending on state requirements.
- Excavate with care. Pothole or hand dig to determine exact location of pipelines.

Damage prevention is a shared responsibility. Digging safety begins with a call to the One Call System required by law in most states.

The service is normally free. Excavation information is then sent through the system to operators of underground facilities near your property.

These operators mark the location of their facilities in accordance with the applicable state requirements.

Emergency contact information is obtained directly from the operator or from nearby pipeline markers.

Before Digging:

- Review all safety information with anyone who is working on the job.
- Mark the locations for hand digging.
- Make emergency equipment available when hazardous atmospheres are potentially present.

- Have a list of all emergency contact numbers for assets in and adjacent to the dig zone readily available.
- Make known the location and route to the nearest hospital to on-site supervisors and yourself.

Color Code Identifiers:

- White: Proposed Excavation
- Pink: Temporary Survey Markings
- Red: Electric Power Lines, Cables, Conduit And Lighting Cables
- Yellow: Gas, Oil, Steam, Petroleum Or Gaseous Materials
- Orange: Communication, Alarm Or Signal Line, Cables Or Conduit
- Blue: Potable Water
- Purple: Reclaimed Water, Irrigation And Slurry Lines
- Green: Sewers and Drain Lines

To learn more about what to do before digging, visit www.call811.com.

Blue Star Banner Program celebrating 15 years of supporting troops from TC

By Monique Weiland

The first sign of summer winding down is the beginning of school. The second sign is the final Concert in Temple City Park after a delightful season of musical talent showcased on Wednesday nights.

Blue Star Banner Executive Director Sharon Johnson thanks the many volunteers who helped with the Blue Star booth in the park, serving up hot nachos, cold ice cream sundaes and floats, and patriotic items.

Honoring those who protect us

24/7/365

The Blue Star family gives special thanks to all the folks who made generous donations and wrote notes or drew pictures to be sent in the care packages for the active military personnel from Temple City serving in the various branches of the military around the world.

One soldier had a summer birthday and really appreciated the special birthday care package full of treats and heartfelt birthday greetings from their community and the Blue Star team.

We are so fortunate in this nation to have individuals willing to risk their lives to protect our way of life and the freedoms we enjoy. Please continue to keep these brave souls in your prayers.

With summer turning the corner, the next Blue Star Recognition Dinner is not far away. In fact, mark your calendars for Friday, Nov. 1. Join the Blue Star family at Temple City Baptist Church for a patriotic experience. More information to come next month.

The Blue Star Banner Program says thank you to their friends and all Blue Star family members of Temple City for supporting the Temple City Blue Star Banner Program for 15 years. May their blue star shine bright for another 15 years as the Blue Star family continues their mission to show our troops we care and that they are not forgotten.

For more information about the Blue Star Banner Program, phone Johnson at 626-285-5852.

Little Libraries need book donations

Temple City’s Youth Committee is seeking books to help keep the Little Free Library program viable in the community. There are currently 6-7 Little Libraries located in the city’s parks, schools and private yards that offer books free of charge to anyone who wishes to take a book.

The program, which also encourages book exchange and book donation, faces a challenge in keeping the Little Library stocked with books.

The public is invited to donate books suitable for children (ages 5-12), teens (ages 13-17), or books of general interest.

Please no promotional flyers or brochures.

The Youth Committee will place a sticker on the book indicating the donor. For more information, phone the City Clerk’s office at 626-285-2171, ext. 4132.

Thank you for your consideration.

With the kids officially back in school, fall sports and activities are sure to follow. Participation in team sports can help children develop a strong sense of self-confidence, promote peer camaraderie and spark a personal connection to fitness that can last a lifetime. Of course, these benefits don’t come without some degree of risk. Help your children enjoy their favorite fall activities with some tips from the HealthCare Partners – Temple City clinic and the American Academy of Pediatrics.

Take time off. Plan to have at least one day off per week and at least one month off per year from training for a particular sport to allow the body to recover.

Wear the right gear. Players should wear appropriate and properly fitting protective equipment such as pads, helmets, mouth-pieces, face guards, protective cups, and eyewear. Young athletes should not assume that protective gear will prevent all injuries while performing more dangerous or risky activities.

Strengthen muscles. Conditioning exercises during practice strengthens muscles used in play.

Increase flexibility. Stretching exercises after games or practice can increase flexibility.

Use the proper technique. This should be reinforced during the playing season.

Take breaks. Rest periods during practice and games can reduce injuries.

Play safe. Strict rules against headfirst sliding (baseball and softball), and spearing (football) should be enforced.

Do not play through pain. Avoid heat illness by drinking plenty of fluids before, during and after exercise or play.

The pressure to win can cause significant sports-related emotional stress for a child. Young athletes should be judged on effort, sportsmanship and hard work. They should be rewarded for trying hard and for improving their skills rather than criticized for losing a game. The main goal should be to have fun and learn lifelong physical activity skills.

HealthCare Partners-Temple City is located at 9810 E. Las Tunas Drive, Ste. 2208, Temple City, CA 91780. 626-309-7600.
According to industry experts, there are over 33 physical problems that will come under scrutiny during a home inspection when your home is for sale. A new report has been prepared which identifies the 11 most common of these problems, and what you should know about them before you list your home for sale.

Whether you own an old home or a brand new one, there are a number of things that can fall short of requirements during a home inspection. If not identified and dealt with, any of these 11 items could cost you dearly in terms of repair. That's why it's critical that you read this report before you list your home. If you wait until the building inspector flags these issues for you, you will almost certainly experience costly delays in the close of your home sale or, worse, turn prospective buyers away altogether. In most cases, you can make a reasonable pre-inspection yourself if you know what you're looking for, and knowing what you're looking for can help you prevent little problems from growing into costly and unmanageable ones.

To help homesellers deal with this issue before their homes are listed, a free report entitled “11 Things You Need to Know to Pass Your Home Inspection” has been compiled which explains the issues involved. To order a FREE Special Report, call toll-free 1-888-300-4632 and enter 3003. You can call any time, 24 hours a day, 7 days a week. Get your free special report NOW to learn how to ensure a home inspection doesn’t cost you the sale of your home.

You’re going to be late for lunch while you sort this all out.

You exchange information, take some pictures of both vehicles (and the other driver if you’re smart), and try to get something to eat before your lunch hour is over.
