Best of Temple City celebrated by TC Chamber of Commerce

94th Annual Awards Gala October 10 • Lotus House restaurant

Temple City Mayor William Man and his fellow City Council members congratulate Lotus House for a fabulous dinner.

Rep. Judy Chu and Temple City Mayor William Man presented certificates to the honorees who were recognized for their outstanding contributions to the city. During the dinner guests enjoyed the opportunity to hear from both candidates running to replace termed out State Senator Dr. Ed Hernandez, former Assembly member Mike Eng, and Baldwin Park City Councilmember Susan Rubio.

Outstanding Community Leader Donna Georgino

A Temple City resident for more than 55 years, Donna Georgino was recognized for representing the best of the city’s civic and community spirit.

Among her many honors are service and citation awards from the California Park and Recreation Society, Temple City PTA Honorary Service Award and American Mother, Mother of Achievement Award, 2015.

Ms. Georgino was involved in the Duarte Rotary vs. Rotary International court case heard before the United States Supreme Court. Duarte Rotary won the case and Ms. Georgino became one of the first woman Rotarians in the world, eventually serving as Duarte Rotary Club President.

A living example of her favorite quote from John Wooden, “Don’t let what you

To compile it, SafeWise first considered each California city’s number of reported violent crimes, including aggravated assault, murder, rape, and robbery.

To ensure fairness despite differences in municipal population size, the site also calculated the rate of crimes per 1,000 people in each city.

Per SafeWise, Temple City had 1.34 violent crimes and 15.88 property crimes per 1,000 people.

At the state level, California’s violent crime rate is relatively low; 80 percent lower, in fact, than the U.S.

Temple City was in the top 10 percent of all California cities when it comes to safety, according to a list recently released by the leading home security website SafeWise.

Temple City ranks among the top 10 percent of all California cities in terms of safety.

Proactive measures help keep Temple City residents safe

The leading home security website SafeWise ranked Temple City as one of the 50 Safest Cities of 2018, which weighs 2016 Federal Bureau of Investigation crime report statistics and population data from the state’s 852 municipalities.

This marks Temple City’s fifth consecutive appearance on the list.

Temple City named among California’s 50 safest cities for fifth consecutive year

The Los Angeles County Office of Education held its 37th annual Teachers of the Year luncheon, Sept. 21. Among the county’s top educators honored at the event was Oak Avenue Intermediate Teacher Marlisse Reina.

The Teachers of the Year luncheon is an event designed to provide recognition for teachers. Among 72,000 Los Angeles County teachers, Ms. Reina is one of only 61 invited to attend this year’s banquet.

Her exemplary dedication and impressive classroom practices helped her earn Temple City Unified School District’s Teacher of the Year title last spring.

When describing the qualities that make Ms. Reina an outstanding educator, an administrator noted her efforts in building a supportive classroom environment that encourages intellectual and social growth in students. “In her classroom character matters, hard work is respected, humility is valued and support for one another is unconditional.”

Most interesting dentist in the world?

So, would you believe I’m now the author of three published books? And it all started right here, some 22 years ago, at the Temple City Chamber.

Back in 1996, the Chamber was looking to add some dental content to its monthly publication.

The previous DDS-type had burned out after three tries. My negotiations ended when I was guaranteed a mug shot to go with my article.

Over the last 22 years, I’ve written all over the local (not loco) place, including the Chamber (twice), the Pasadena Weekly, the San Gabriel Valley Weekly, the Arcadia Weekly, Pasadena Magazine, and currently, Arcadia Patch.com. The three books: Can we Smile, Molar Jockey Memoirs, and … The Most Interesting Dentist in the World are a collection of pieces I’ve written for local rags.

The stories have always been about people; some of them family (including co-workers, patients, and selected colleagues) and some of them imaginary.

There’ve been virtual interviews with the likes of Coach Pete Carroll, the Dalai Lama, Andy Rooney, Lane Kiffin, and even the current retired game-show host playing away straight out of the Oval Office. And, let’s not forget for mountain health.

The context has been a view of dentistry and the patient experience from the lighter, human side.

The message has hopefully been more of an invitation to the community to find a happy dental home and a healthy mouth, body, and life.

The passion comes from home. When you’ve been the caregiver for your parents and your 100-year-old Aunt Clara, it’s almost impossible not seeing the people you serve as family.

And by the way, even though my hat size practically goes to double figures, you’d be amazed by how humble I am … maybe even the most humble dentist in the world.

The title of book No. 3 was kind of thrust upon me, mostly because my film crew, set designer, and make-up artist won me a Dos Equis-inspired video contest. I even have a trophy to prove it.

Until next month, fight on! And, stay thirsty, my friends. Thanks for the opportunity.

Treat chronic muscle, joint pain with acupuncture at TAT Health Group

Are you looking for real relief from chronic pain? Have you tried standard treatments like ice and heat, anti-inflammatory medications, physical therapy, appropriate exercises and are still in pain? Chronic pain in muscles and joints can make life miserable.

At TAT Health Group, the goal is to provide the best service, treatment and herbal products to relieve people of illness and suffering, and to prevent disease from mounting.

The context has been a view of dentistry and the patient experience from the lighter, human side.

The message has hopefully been more of an invitation to the community to find a happy dental home and a healthy mouth, body, and life.

Estate planning attorney can help veterans through maze of new VA pension benefit rules

If you are a veteran or the spouse of a veteran, then you may be eligible for VA pension benefits, and VA pension planning may be an option for you. VA pension benefits consist of monthly cash benefits paid to eligible wartime veterans or their surviving spouses and dependent children to help defray care costs. To qualify for these benefits, VA applicants must meet certain financial and medical requirements.

Recently, the Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) published revisions to existing eligibility requirements for VA benefits. These new rules are effective as of Oct. 18, 2018. The key changes to the eligibility rules are as follows:

• A look-back period of 36 months now applies to applications for VA benefits, and a penalty period will apply to any asset transferred for less than fair market value
• The maximum net worth for a veteran to qualify for VA pension benefits cannot exceed $123,600 (this number will increase annually with the increase in Social Security benefits)
• An applicant’s primary residence will remain an exempt asset, but the residential lot area cannot exceed two acres.

If you are currently receiving VA pension benefits or are interested in obtaining benefits, it is important to consult with an estate planning attorney that practices in VA planning.

The qualification process for VA benefits can be complicated, particularly with the new rules taking effect, and the right attorney can devise legal strategies and employ planning techniques to help you qualify.

At my office, we practice in VA pension planning and can work with you to find the best planning strategy for you.

There are many architectural house styles in Los Angeles. Here are some of the most popular ones:

1. Traditional
   Traditional homes are often a blend of different historical architectural styles. They have the warm and inviting look of a traditional house. Traditional house floor plans include formal living, formal dining.

2. Craftsman
   Craftsman style houses have low-pitched gabled roofs, deeply overhanging broad eaves and large front porches beneath the extension of the main roof, wooden/shingled siding.

3. Cape Cod
   Traditional Cape Cod homes, originating from England in the 17th century, are square, one or 1-1/2 stories, with steep, gabled roofs.

4. Tudor
   Tudor style homes offer steep sloping roofs, combined with heavy looking decorative half-timbering.

5. Victorian
   The style is defined by the ornamentation of the prosperous Victorian era (mid-to-late 19th century), including curved towers and spindled porches.

6. French
   They are characterized by their very steep roofs and symmetrical proportions. Some French style homes are made entirely of brick.

7. Mediterranean/Spanish
   One of the most common and classic style of houses in Southern California. Easily recognizable with the red roofs, arched entry way or window door tops and usually exterior white paint.

8. Tuscan
   Tuscan homes look similar to Spanish/Mediterranean ones, but often have a lot more masonry and stone work on the exterior.

9. Modern
   Common in the mid-to-late 20th century, modern homes are geometric, symmetrical, emphasis is on rectangular forms with no roof, oversized glass sliding doors and windows to allow lots of natural light to come through.

10. Contemporary
    It often blends the exterior shape of a traditional style house with modern elements such as large multi-sliding doors, clean lines and a more open-plan layout.

Knowing the style of a home can be helpful for buying, selling, remodeling or decorating.

How to Sell High:

Avoid these Three Mistakes When Selling Your Home

When you decide to sell your home, setting your asking price is one of the most important decisions you will ever make. Depending on how a buyer is made aware of your home, price is often the first thing he or she sees, and many homes are discarded by prospective buyers as not being in the appropriate price range before they’re even given a chance of showing.

Your asking price is often your home’s “first impression,” and if you want to realize the most money you can for your home, it’s imperative that you make a good first impression.

This is not as easy as it sounds, and pricing strategy should not be taken lightly. Pricing too high can be as costly to a homeseller as pricing too low. Taking a look at what homes in your neighborhood have sold for is only a small part of the process, and on its own is not nearly enough to help you make the best decision.

A recent study, which compiles 10 years of industry research, has resulted in a new special report entitled “Homesellers: How to Get the Price You Want (and Need).” This report will help you understand pricing strategy from three different angles. When taken together, this information will help you price your home to not only sell, but sell for the price you want.

Annual Veteran’s Day celebration Nov. 10

Tribute will include flyover, health fair

More than 800 veterans call Temple City home, and Saturday, Nov. 10, is an opportunity to thank them for their service.

Military and community members are invited to attend the city’s annual Veterans Day celebration at Temple City Park. This year’s event will take place next to the park’s Veterans Memorial and feature speeches, an aircraft flyover and other commemorative activities.

In addition, a community health fair organized by HealthCare Partners will begin at 9 a.m. and last throughout the event. Forty vendors, including the Temple City American Legion, will host educational booths, providing information on topics ranging from healthy lifestyles to where veterans can access support groups.

“Temple City is proud to recognize its veterans, many of whom served in conflicts such as World War II, the Korean War and the Vietnam War,” said Mayor William Man. “These home-thers represent an integral aspect of our city’s history, and as they age, it becomes especially important to honor and preserve their legacies.”

Prior to the event’s opening invocation, attendees will enjoy a traditional “posting of colors” flag ceremony. The Rev. Terry Keenan, a senior minister for the Santa Ana Church, will deliver the formal welcome at 10:30 a.m., and immediately afterward, a formation of vintage airplanes from Global Eagle Aviation Group will perform a patriotic flyover at 10:40 a.m. in recognition of Temple City’s service members.

Guests will then hear remarks from Cmdr. Mark Tavares of the local veterans of Foreign Wars Post 20112 and Mayor Man, with a free lunch, live entertainment and a display of military memorabilia rounding out the day. Sponsored by HealthCare Partners, the presentation will include old airplanes, vehicles, helmets and weapons, providing a chance to interact with history.

SONshine Preschool promoting healthy habits

At SONshine House Preschool, October was Health Month so teachers initiated many fun ways to encourage students to “Think, Eat and Be Healthy!”

Ms. Yumi’s class incorporated learning with hands-on cooking by making Monkey Bread with apples, raisins, bread, bananas and pretzels. Start a conversation with your child of their own favorite foods and create your own Monkey Bread.

With the fall season in full swing, these Health Month activities are just one of many activities for Aarav and his classmates at SONshine House Preschool. For more information on what SONshine House Preschool offers, stop by at 10141 Broadway or phone 626-285-3380.

Aarav and his classmates are one of many activities for young students to “Think, Eat and Be Healthy!” Parents and their children still have time to experience the difference Kumon Math and Reading Center can make in their lives.

Temple City Kumon Math & Reading Center is offering parents and students a free two-week trial from Oct. 16 to Nov. 15.

The purpose of the free trial is to provide new families the opportunity to experience the Kumon routine and for current families to try a second subject.

In addition, the free trial is a call to action. Kumon wants parents to say, “I want all of my children to have the benefit of developing their math and/or reading ability.”

The goal is to demonstrate to parents how Kumon works in preparation for long-term study both in the classroom and at home.

Kumon seeks to reach out to the community and change the lives of the children.

Kumon Math & Reading Center is located at 9666 Las Tunas Drive. Visit www.kumon.com/temple-city, phone 626-287-8434 or email dipalinandi@kumon.com.
Discover the love behindColumbo's blue eyes

Columbo is a rather medium energy two-year-old Siberian Husky, weighing in as only 52 pounds. He is extremely affectionate and human-oriented. He likes to be close to his human and really enjoys cuddle time. Columbo is a participatory veterinarian. If you are a fan of Huskies, you should meet Columbo. He will melt your heart with his soulful blue eyes. His adoption fee is $145, which includes neuter surgery, a cost spay/neuter and vaccination service for your pet. It is the friendly, local choice for low cost spay/neuter and vaccination services for Temple City and is a participating veterinarian.
