Tips on how to be prepared before, during and after for an earthquake

According to a U.S. Geological Survey, the Southern California area experiences about 10,000 earthquakes a year. Most of them are so small that they are not even felt. Only several hundred are greater than a magnitude of 3.0, and only about 15-20 are greater than a magnitude of 4.0.

Therefore, it is essential to know what to do before, during and after earthquakes.

What to Do Before an Earthquake
- Do not make additions to your home without structural-engineering calculations.
- Have basic knowledge of first aid.
- Have a fire extinguisher, first-aid kit, battery-powered radio, flashlight and extra batteries.
- Learn how to turn off the gas, water, and electricity.
- Do not place heavy objects on shelves which may fall during an earthquake.
- Anchor heavy furniture to walls or the floor.

What to Do During an Earthquake
- If indoors, stand against a wall near the center of the building, stand in a doorway or crawl under heavy furniture.
- If outdoors, stand in an open area away from objects that may fall.
- Do not use matches, candles, or any flame; broken gas lines and fire do not mix.
- If in a car, pull the car over to the side of the road and remain inside until the quake stops.
- Do not use elevators.

What to Do After an Earthquake
- Provide first aid for anyone who needs it.
- Check water, gas, and electric lines for damage. If damaged, shut off the valve.
- Check for the smell of gas. If smelled, open all windows and doors, leave immediately, and report to the authorities.
- Stay out of damaged buildings.
- Be careful of chimneys - they may collapse.
- Wear boots or sturdy shoes to keep from injuring feet.
- If at school or work, follow the emergency plan or instructions of the person in charge.
- Expect aftershocks.

Innovation fund will equip local cities with resources to combat homelessness

The Board of Supervisors approved a motion by Supervisors Kathryn Barger and Hilda L. Solis to allocate $6 million to equip cities with tools to implement plans to combat homelessness.

“Solutions to combating homelessness require the county to work closely with cities that know the challenges they face, and the support they need,” said Supervisor Barger, who authored the motion. “Homelessness does not look the same in the Antelope Valley as it does in the San Gabriel Valley and, as a result, the county should empower cities to create innovative solutions to tackle homelessness at the local level.”

Using Measure H funds directed to Councils of Government, the initiative will enable cities to support activities that align with the Board of Supervisors-approved Homeless Initiative Action Plan to Prevent and Combat Homelessness and will complement the implementation of city-homelessness plans.

“As our cities develop creative solutions to address their own unique homelessness challenges, it has become clear that they need additional flexibility to be able to access Measure H funding,” said Supervisor Solis, who co-authored the motion. “There is an extraordinary need for shelter and housing in the San Gabriel Valley, and initiatives such as the City of Pomonas’ Hope for Home shelter are the gold standard for addressing this demand. I will always support our cities who are ready to partner with LA County to create shelters, build supportive housing, and enhance the delivery of homelessness services.”

In 2017, interested cities were awarded planning grants to decide how they wanted to prevent and combat homelessness.

Across the county, 41 cities developed plans, demonstrating a high level of engagement from stakeholders across the region.

Following a solicitation process, the County awarded $8.2 million to support 34 city proposals covering 31 cities.

Proposals either focused on increasing the supply of permanent and interim housing or on enhancing supportive services for those experiencing and/or at-risk of homelessness.

While many cities applied for the last round of grants, the complex nature of the process may have discouraged participation.

As a result of today’s motion, these additional funds will be distributed by local Councils of Government to ensure cities have more flexibility when implementing their homelessness plans.

Simplify legalese for clarity, accuracy in estate planning

Most of the time, clients become unclear about using the proper legal terms in estate planning, and for good reason: the terms are confusing.

The most common example I hear is when people talk about wanting to name an Executor of my will.

However, this is not the proper term that should be used.

The law has different names for different fiduciaries, that is, the person or persons designated to be in charge in an estate planning document. Here’s a simple list of terms to help clarify:

- An executor is the person who administers a last will and testament for a decedent.
- An attorney-in-fact is the person who manages financial matters for another person through a durable power of attorney.
- A health care agent makes health care decisions for another person through an advance health care directive.
- An attorney is the person who administers a business opportunity for Realtors in our market,” said Giuseppe Veneziano, 2019 WSGVR president.

For more information on joining their Global Business Council, email albert@wsygar.com or visit http://www.wsgyar.com/global/!

The West San Gabriel Valley Realtors, established 1922, is a trade organization with more than 3,000 real estate members. For more than 97 years, WSGVR has served Realtors throughout Southern California and, in particular, the five cities of Altamira, Monterey Park, Rosemead, San Gabriel, and Temple City. The mission of the West San Gabriel Valley Realtors is to advocate and enhance the interests of Realtors; to promote adherence to the Realtors Code of Ethics and professional competence of members; to safeguard and preserve private property rights, always mindful of cultural backgrounds within our communities.

CalFresh Food benefits now available to seniors with disabilities

Older adults and people with disabilities in Los Angeles County receiving Supplemental Security Income (SSI) are now potentially eligible to receive CalFresh food benefits, as of June 1.

“This expansion of the CalFresh Program helps our department serve the county’s most vulnerable and food insecure populations,” said DPSS Director Antonia Jesus Ruiz.

For more information, call 626-685-9378 or visit dpss.lacounty.gov. To apply, call 626-628-7033, which is accessible on any computer or mobile device or via the department’s Your Benefits Now application system.

The department is encouraging customers to take advantage of the many enrollment options that do not require a visit to a DPSS office.

Customers can apply by phoning the DPSS Call Center at 866-613-3777, Monday through Friday, 7:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m., or online by visiting www.calfresh.org, which is accessible on any computer or mobile device or via the department’s Your Benefits Now application system.

To learn more about the CalFresh Expansion, email James Bolden at Jamesbolden@dpss.lacounty.gov or Jesus Ruiz at Jesusruiz@ dpss.lacounty.gov.

To make these terms even more complicated, in court, an administrator is appointed to manage an estate without an estate plan, and an executor is appointed to manage an estate with a last will and testament.

Is this confusing enough for you? To simplify, if you cannot remember whether you have an executor of my will or not, when in doubt, I recommend using general terms like fiduciary or personal representative.
