Temple City High School student Connie Tan recognized by United States Supreme Court Justice Clarence Thomas

By Charlotte Nin

Connie Tan, class of 2018, was one of 104 people selected nationwide for the Horatio Alger Scholarship last year. The scholarship is awarded to those who have faced and overcome great obstacles in their lives. Since 1984, Horatio Alger Association Members and Friends have funded need-based college scholarships for low-income youth to pursue their dreams through higher education. So far the Association has awarded more than $125 million to approximately 20,000 students.

Through its many scholarship programs, the Association supports students pursuing career and technical certificates and degrees, bachelor’s degrees, and graduate studies.

Eligible applicants can receive $25,000. Connie was flown to Washington D.C. where she met Supreme Court Justice Clarence Thomas and other national scholars as well. The deadline for this year is Oct. 25.

On her social media post, Connie said “even if you are not eligible for this particular scholarship, [she] strongly encourages everyone to apply and never give up without trying! There is money for college!"

Moon Festival & Gourmet Food Fair pulls in a crowd

Throng of visitors enjoyed tasty treats from stinky fried tofu to fried swirl cut potatoes on a stick at Temple City’s first Moon Festival & Gourmet Food Fair, Saturday, Sept. 22 and Sunday Sept. 23. Produced by the city in partnership with Chinese-language newspaper World Journal, the free event in Temple City Park featured dozens of live performances and a wide variety of product and gourmet food stalls.

The Moon Festival offered an opportunity to spend time with family and friends, light colorful lanterns and pay tribute to the moon as a symbol of harmony and unity.

The Moon Festival, also known as the Mid-Autumn Festival, is a harvest celebration that originated in ancient China more than 3,000 years ago. The festival’s enduring emphasis on gratitude stems from its historical roots as an occasion to honor the lunar deity Chang’e and express appreciation for a bountiful harvest.

French returns to Temple City in new role

Temple City Unified School District (TCUSD) is pleased to announce the appointment of Robert French as the new assistant superintendent of Personnel.

As assistant superintendent and member of TCUSD’s senior management team, he will oversee administration of the District’s human resource functions.

Teachers and staff welcomed Assistant Superintendent French at the TCUSD Back to School Gathering, Aug. 27.

He shared his enthusiasm for his new role at the event by saying, “I am very excited to serve the community of Temple City because this was home for me when I started in education 20 years ago as a substitute teacher.”

His 20-year educational career includes in-depth experience in human resources, including 18 years at Perris School District and, more recently, assistant superintendent of personnel for his new role at the event.

French started in education 20 years ago as a substitute teacher. He was welcomed Aug. 27 as an assistant superintendent of Personnel.

He holds a Bachelor’s Degree in Political Science and Public Administration from Cal Poly Pomona, a Master’s Degree in Educational Administration from Azusa Pacific University, and earned his teaching credential from the University of La Verne.

Seeking to meet the demands brought on by the District’s impressive growth, French will devote his focus to building on an already robust workplace talent.

An invincible story and a reappearing smile

She was the mother of three, had two grandchildren, owned a promotions business, and was a force in the community; her husband was a die-hard USC Trojan football fan. Carol hadn’t been to the dentist in going on two decades. We met at a Chamber breakfast.

Like 30-40 million Americans, Carol suffered an ongoing case of dental fear.

Carol’s first visit was mostly about her sharing and me listening, her major concerns were bleeding gums, increasingly persistent headaches … and a smile she hidden since she was a kid.

But guess what? No cavities. Most importantly, we made sure Carol knew she always be in control, she be the chief. Turned out, the headaches and bleeding gums were directly related to the self-conscious non-smile.

The severely crowded front teeth created a focus for chronic gum infection. The deep overbite left Carol’s jaw in a very uncomfortable position; the muscles that sustained that posture were in chronic spasm.

We used Invisalign care to correct the crowded front teeth, align the upper and lower arches to open Carol’s bite into a relaxed position, and create a smile that revealed the fully expressed positive, dynamo that had been there from day one.

The active orthodontic care took nine months. Invisalign care uses removable clear trays, oral hygiene is progressively enhanced, not compromised … plus all-weather gain with no pain.

Current research shows strong a connection between oral health and general health. Chronic oral infection and inflammation such as periodontal (gum) disease can be linked to 50 percent of fatal heart attacks.

Chronic oral infection also increases the risk for lung disease, diabetes, low weight premature births, and even pancreatic cancer.

Unmanaged periodontitis renders the physical equivalent of a 5-inch open wound; the infection is transmissible within the mouth and between people.

Fifty percent of the U.S. doesn’t have a happy dental home. And painless non-invasive care such as Invisalign orthodontics can not only transform smiles; the care can also enhance the quality and longevity of life.

Revisable living trusts common in divorce cases

A revocable living trust is the most common type of trust drafted in California. The main goal of a revocable living trust is to avoid probate, which can be a time-consuming (approximately 12-16 months) and expensive (typically in excess of $10,000) process, which can most often be avoided by having a properly drafted trust.

A revocable living trust is common in a divorce case. With a revocable living trust, you may first want to confirm that there is a provision clearly stating that any property transferred into the trust remains community property.

Next, you may want to revoke your revocable living trust during the pendency of your divorce case to avoid your property passing to your ex-spouse, if at all possible.

Please note that revocable living trusts will often require the signatures of both spouses to properly revoke the trust.

In addition to working with a family law attorney, you should speak with an estate planning attorney regarding the best way to proceed with trust revocation.

Once you decide with all your requisite professionals that it is in your best interest to revoke your revocable living trust, then discuss with your family law attorney whether to file and serve a Notice of Revocation of Trust pursuant to California Family Code section 2040(b)(2). Then, you will be in a position to draft an estate plan with a registered professional.

Although many of the concepts in this article may seem overwhelming, working with the proper professional team should help ensure that you navigate the worlds of family law, estate planning, and tax law with minimal stress and enhanced protection for your family and loved ones.

Choose room colors carefully to create positive psychological effect

Everyone has a favorite color. These colors influence our choices of clothes, accessories or car.

However, when it comes to the decor or color on the walls of houses, it is a different scenario.

The colors chosen within the home reflect personality and influence emotion. The secret is to blend our favorite colors into an eye-pleasing combination.

Lighter colors create an expanse and make rooms appear larger and brighter. Dark colors, on the other hand, are sophisticated and warm; they give larger rooms a more intimate appearance. As a general rule, ceilings that are lighter than the walls feel higher, while darker ceilings feel lower.

Red is the most intense color and increases a room’s energy level. In the living room or dining room, red draws people together and stimulates conversation. Yellow represents the joy of sunshine and happiness. It is an excellent for kitchens, dining rooms and bathrooms, where it energizes and uplifts. In halls, entries and small spaces, yellow can feel airy and welcoming.

Blue is considered relaxing and serene. It is recommended for bedrooms and bathrooms. Dark blue has the opposite effect however, resulting in feelings of sadness.

Green is considered the most calming color for the eye. Combining the refreshing quality of blue and the cheerfulness of yellow, green is suited for almost any room in the house. Green also has a restful effect when used as a main color.

Purple is rich, dramatic and sophisticated. It is associated with luxury and creativity.

Orange is an energetic color that creates excitement and enthusiasm. Ancient cultures believed it was used for healing and cleansing as well.

Neutrals (white, black, gray and brown) are used extensively by decorators. Black is best used in small doses as an accent.

Choose home colors wisely and enjoy the outcome.

TAT Health Group offers arthritis relief

Acupuncture offers relief for joint pain and stiffness caused by osteoarthritis and rheumatoid arthritis.

Osteoarthritis occurs over time as the cushioning cartilage in joints wears down. Also, certain physical activities and excess weight can wear on joints.

Rheumatoid arthritis is different from osteoarthritis.

The root cause of arthritis is an autoimmune disorder. There can be a genetic component to any autoimmune disease, but other factors can also be involved.

Acupuncture aims to reestablish a balance of the energies, known as chi, and that runs through energy channels, known as meridians, in the body.

Chinese herbs can be used to help with anti-inflammatory efforts, and an overall sense of well-being can be achieved from the relaxation and the uptick in serotonin and endorphins that an acupuncture treatment can deliver.

TAT Health Group has experienced practitioners of Traditional Chinese Medicine, including acupuncture, and can offer help with osteoarthritis and rheumatoid arthritis. Phone 626-451-6801 for an appointment. TAT Health Group is located at 9868 Las Tunas Drive, Temple City.

The Right Doctors Make All the Difference
Apply for seat on Committee on Aging

Temple City’s Council is now recruiting representatives to fill seats on the City’s newly formed Committee on Aging.

Members will support the City Council and a variety of community stakeholders as they work toward implementing the 10-year Senior Master Plan.

Joining the committee is an opportunity to get in on the ground floor of a forward-thinking initiative that will have lasting effects on Temple City residents of all ages.

As a working group, the committee will conceptualize and institute creative ways to bring the Senior Master Plan’s 24 expert-approved recommendations to life.

Early challenges to be tackled by the committee include building awareness of existing senior-focused services and programs, recruiting volunteers for senior-related causes and developing a list of recommendations for new social opportunities to connect seniors with each other.

In a related vein, the committee will also assist with assessing funding opportunities, including ones that incorporate new community partners, to help underwrite senior-focused services and programs.

Committee members serve two-year terms and meet on a quarterly basis, with terms commencing July 1, 2019.

Anyone who has a vested interest in improving services and programs for Temple City’s senior population is invited to apply for one of the vacant seats.

Applications are due Oct. 31, 5 p.m. and can be obtained at templecityus.org or Live Oak Park Community Center.

Applications may be submitted in three ways:

- In person at Live Oak Park Community Center
- Via e-mail to Committee on Aging, Temple City, Attention: Steve Lawson, 9701 Las Tunas Drive, Temple City, CA 91780.
- Mailed to: Committee on Aging, Temple City, Attention: Steve Lawson, 9701 Las Tunas Drive, Temple City, CA 91780.

Local art students sweep art contest

Playfactory Preschool in Temple City honored the students’ grandparents with its Annual Grandparents Day Breakfast, Sept. 14, to show all of the grandchildren how much they are loved and appreciated. Grandparents and family members (representing grandparents) enjoyed performances by the five classrooms of children aged 2-5. There were many proud grandparents snapping pictures of their precious grandchildren. Afterwards everyone enjoyed a delicious buffet style breakfast together prepared by the school cook Ms. Emma.

In the weeks following the children were immensely excited to make invitations for the Second Annual Playfactory Preschool Good Neighbor Luncheon. They walked the neighborhood on Sept. 21 inviting neighbors to the luncheon. At the Good Neighbor Luncheon the children performed songs, then ate a delicious lunch and socialized with their neighbors. The luncheon is always a great opportunity to reach out to those around us and catch up or introduce ourselves to Temple City neighbors.
