the Chamber’s honorees for Outstanding Business of the Year: Wushu Action Star Academy and its fearless leader and owner Coach Jing Li.

Well known in the film industry, Ms. Li is a martial arts expert and well respected stunt woman and stunt coach with credits that include Rush Hour 3, Priest, The Last Airbender, and many more. While working on these films Ms. Li has collaborated with actors like Nicole Kidman, Jackie Chan, Jessica Chastain, Donnie Yen, and Mary J. Blige. Most recently, she trained actress Amber Heard for her role as Mera in the box office hit “Aquaman.”

In 2018, Ms. Li was awarded the Legendary Stunt Award at the 2018 Action on Film International Film Festival MEGAfest. The Legendary Stunt Award recognizes the best stunt professionals working in the action genre and this year it was awarded to eight individuals including Jing Li. This year Ms. Li was honored as one of Congresswoman Judy Chu’s 12 Women of the Year honoring local women who have contributed to the community.

“Every single honoree (was) selected through an exhaustive process, starting with a nomination from their neighbors, friends, and family – the people in their communities who have benefited most directly from their service,” said Rep. Chu. “We received a flood of nominations … and today’s winners stood out not only because of their work, but because of the admiration from their neighbors and fellow citizens. I’m so proud of these role models and am honored to be recognizing them.”

When she is not training movie stars to be believable superheroes, Ms. Li is head coach at Wushu Action Star Academy (9657 Las Tunas Drive, Temple City), a world class martial arts training center providing instruction in Wushu and Taichi.

An athletic discipline of physical culture and sports, Wushu implements offensive and defensive movements, both bare-hand and with weapons training, in a very unique and dynamic fashion. Tai chi is a Chinese exercise system that uses slow, smooth body movements to achieve a state of relaxation of both body and mind. Training with Coach Li also develops focus and discipline which is an asset whether you are six years old or sixty.

Mr. Erenay and Wushu Action Star Academy will be joined by their fellow honorees at the Chamber’s annual gala at the Camellia Square shopping center (which was itself a past winner of the “Outstanding Business Beautiful” category awarded to that business which has contributed the most to beauty and physically improve the Temple City business community.)

This year Parklane Dental, the Hello Kitty-themed dental clinic on the corner of Las Tunas Drive and Camellia Avenue, will be recognized as “Outstanding Business Beautiful.”

Transtech Engineers and California American Water were announced as this year’s recipients of the Temple City Chamber of Commerce’s Outstanding Community Service.

Healthcare. Retirement. Those may be two of the most stressful words in the English language today, especially when you include them both in the same sentence.

Those three words can help reduce the stress of retirement healthcare expenses. A Health Savings Account, or HSA, is a tax-advantaged account that can be opened by anyone who is enrolled in a high deductible health plan (with a deductible of at least $1,350 for individuals or $2,700 for families for 2019). Typically, HSAs offer three significant tax benefits:

- Tax-free withdrawals. If you use HSA savings to pay qualified medical expenses, the withdrawals are income tax free.
- Pre-tax (or tax-deductible) contributions. Contributions to HSAs are federally tax-deductible up to certain limits. For 2019, the limits are $3,500 for a single person and $7,000 for a family. If you’re age 55 or older, then you can save an additional $1,000 a year in the account.
- Tax-deferred growth. Any interest earned in an HSA grows tax-deferred. Generally, HSA contributions go into an account at a bank, credit union, or other financial institution that is an HSA-approved custodian. However, those savings can also be invested.

Savings can be used to pay qualified medical expenses. Money set aside in HSAs can be used to pay health insurance deductibles, as well as qualified medical expenses, health insurance premiums (if you’re receiving unemployment benefits), and long-term care premiums.

Savings can also be used for retirement income.

The best incentive for saving as much as possible in an HSA is this: if you reach age 65, the money can be used for living expenses as well as qualified medical expenses. Withdrawals that are used to supplement income may be taxed as ordinary income.

Trustee duties and the role of a fiduciary

By Allyson S. Heller

When it comes time to administer a living trust, the person designated as the trustee owes certain duties to the trust that he or she must always be aware of.

Perhaps the most fundamental duty that a trustee has is the duty of loyalty. At its core, the duty of loyalty means that the trustee has a responsibility to act solely in the interest of the trust beneficiaries.

The trustee must refrain from engaging in transactions that personally benefit the trustee at the expense of the beneficiaries. Additionally, the trustee must be wary of conflicts of interest. A conflict of interest often arises when the trustee is also a beneficiary of the trust.

All trustees have a duty to exercise the reasonable care, skill, and caution of a prudent person, in administering the trust in accordance with the requirements of the Probate Code.

Due to the broad implications of the duty of care, it is crucial that trustees understand the requirements of trust administration.

The trustee also has a duty to act impartially towards all beneficiaries of the trust and avoid showing favoritism to any one beneficiary.

Other duties include the duty to safeguard and preserve trust property, segregate trust assets, and account to beneficiaries.

As a fiduciary, the trustee must act with the highest standard of care in carrying out his or her duties in administering the trust.

Swimming pools are not a modern innovation. They have existed in many parts of the world since ancient times. The Romans used them during the second century BC, for example, and in India, the Middle East, and elsewhere, archaeologists have unearthed pool structures more than a thousand years older than that.

Everyone enjoys the wonderful California beaches, however when it comes to swimming, the ocean is not the ideal water unlike the Mediterranean and Aegean Coasts, for those of you who have travelled, where the calm sea is ideal. If you enjoy real swimming rather than body boarding or surfing in the Pacific Ocean, a pool is for you.

Adding a swimming pool to your backyard is a great idea for those who love to swim.

Consider the following when building a pool:

- Check the local building code before creating the plan. Find out the size and location of the pool you are allowed to build.
- Decide on how the pool is going to be used: for kids, an eating area, a bar, with lounge chairs, etc.
- Consider the direction of the pool. Pick the best spot to maximize the sun and shade during the day.
- Decide on the size of the pool by using chalk (if it is a hardscape) or with stick rope (if it is soil or grass) to outline a shape on the ground. This is a great way to visualize the final look.
- From ancient pools to the latest modern pool design, the best shaped pool is a rectangle. It is conducive for swimming, especially lap swimming.
- Consider adding a hot tub or spa for relaxation.
- Consider an outside shower to rinse off before and after swimming.
- Fences and gates might be required if you have kids or pets.

Pools have existed in many parts of the world since ancient times. They can be built in many different settings and shapes to meet a variety of needs for homeowners. Check the local building code before creating your plan. Find out the size and location of the pool you are allowed to build.
Blue Star Banner semi-annual Recognition Dinner, Nov. 1

By Monique Weiland

The public is invited to join the Temple City Blue Star Program family, at 6:30 p.m., Nov. 1 at the Semi-annual Recognition dinner, at Temple City First Baptist Church.

Larry Steimle is the speaker for the evening - recommended by two Temple City veterans Dale Perry and Jack McKewan - who will share his well-documented PowerPoint presentation on World War II.

Guests will enjoy pasta and Numero Uno's pizza as the newest member of the Armed Forces and their family are honored with a Certificate of Appreciation.

Six Blue Star banners along Las Tunas Drive have been replaced and more replacements are on their way. Donations are always appreciated to help with the maintenance of the recognition banners and care packages.

The Blue Star program also appreciates notes, pictures, drawings, and letters to include in the care packages for Temple Citians who are actively serving to protect our way of life and personal freedoms. Each person represented on a banner deserves our appreciation, prayers, and support.

Celebrate the Greatest Generation who bravely fought for democracy and freedom around the world.

Flu season: get vaccine now, stay healthy for the people you love

As winter approaches, you may find yourself busy with children or grandchildren returning to school, work or volunteer efforts and various seasonal holiday planning.

During this hectic time of year, we can be easily tired and worn out. This may leave us unprotected against seasonal illnesses, especially influenza (the flu). It is important to remember that even healthy people can get the flu. Everyone 6 months or older should get a flu vaccine. It is especially applicable if you are pregnant or have a chronic condition like asthma, diabetes, CHF, or COPD.

In addition to getting your flu vaccine, your neighbor HealthCarePartners-Temple City Clinic and

Facility offers trained staff on site

Martha Zeledon-Lopez has lived in Temple City for the last 40 years. A retired court interpreter with the Los Angeles court system, Zeledon-Lopez’s dream for creating a home for the elderly began 11 years ago when her elderly mother was in need of care. “My mother was of a sound mind and not bed-ridden, but still in need of assistance with her activities of daily living,” said Zeledon-Lopez. “My siblings and I all had full time jobs and were not able to give her the assistance she needed.”

As she searched for a facility that would have a home atmosphere, she discovered that most facilities seemed to cater to elderly residents with dementia or more physical limitations than her mother. Unable to find a home that met her mother’s needs, Zeledon-Lopez and her sister Julia took time off work to care for their mother.

“I realized then,” said Martha, “that there was a great need for facilities for older people where they could thrive, be joyful, and live meaningful lives.” She went back to school to build on her Psychology BS degree and earned a Masters in Gerontology (the study of aging).

“I am excited to offer my knowledge and expertise to families seeking similar care and to the San Gabriel Valley elderly community.”

Opening Oct. 1, Mary And Martha’s Home For The Elderly is a four-bedroom residential care facility with a trained staff on-site 24 hours a day.

Their formal education in Gerontology, Psychology, Teaching, Theology, and Spirituality has taught Zeledon-Lopez and her staff that the need to socialize, to have a purpose, to be respected, and to continue to grow is never ending.

With this in mind, the facility offers daily activities to enhance physical, cognitive, emotional, and spiritual assistance.

Selecting a residence for yourself or your loved one is one of the most important decisions you can make.

Enjoy your favorite Vietnamese soup at Lotus House

Lotus House offers crowd favorite Banh Canh Cua Dac Biet

Here at Lotus House restaurant, host of the Temple City Chamber of Commerce's 94th Annual Gala Dinner last year, a popular crowd favorite is Banh Canh Cua Dac Biet or, as the family run restaurant calls it: Slippery Noodles. Banh Canh Cua Dac Biet is the signature noodle dish that one eats with a spoon because the noodles are round and tend to slip from chop sticks and spoons. They are very similar to Japanese udon noodles. Cua is the Vietnamese word for crab, so together Banh Canh Cua is “noodles with crab.”

Dac Biet is the signature noodles with crab dish and is one of the most popular items on the Lotus House menu, often selling out.
